WEDNESDAY, MARCH 10. 1742.

No. 2097.

To the Author of the DAILY GAZETTEER.

S I R,

HERE having been lately so much Discourse about Comets, it brought to my Remembrance a Letter of Dr. Oughtred's, in relation to a Comet observed by him in the Year 1652. I need not tell you how great his Reputation was, or how well he deserv'd it; and therefore I cannot think any Apology necessary for the Liberty I take, in desiring you to communicate it to the World as soon as you can conveniently. I am, S I R,
Well-Close Square,
March 2. 1742.

Your Daily Reader,
and very Humble Servant,
A. B.

To my Good Friend Mr. W. L.

S I R,

I Have here sent you what I observed about the last Comet: I could not do it by Master Gratores, by reason he did not signify your Mind to me, but presently before his Departure. We dwell here between Hills, and have not very often a clear Sky, so that many Nights of that short Time it continued, it appeared not unto us. The first Sight I had of it (and the first time that ever I heard it was seen) was upon Thursday, Dec. 9. 1652. past eight at Night; it was then about four Degrees Westward of the Head of the Hare, or Fera Orionis. My second Sight of it was upon Saturday Night the 11th; it was ascended then as high almost as the Fore Shoulder of Orion, somewhat near his Shield. The third time was upon Tuesday the 14th Day at Night, at which time it had attained to the lowest and westernmost Star of the Pleiades. The fourth time was upon Wednesday Night the 15th; it was then come up almost as high as the Left Foot of Perseus, better than three Degrees from the Star there, and making almost an Isosceles Triangle with it and the Star in the Talar, or Wing, on the West Side. Upon the 16th, being Thursday at Night, it was gotten a little above a Right Line with those two Stars, and but little farther from the Star in the Wing, than that is from the Star in the Foot, Westward of both: This was the fifth View I had of it. The last was upon Sunday Night the 19th, when it was come as high as the Eye of Medusa, wanting scarce a Degree; and almost in a right Line with it, but a very little within toward the Body of Perseus. Since I have not seen the Comet; yet upon Monday Night the 20th, two other Men, younger much than I, being with me looking, said, that they saw it a little above the Eye of Medusa, but my dimmer Sight could not perceive it. And since, some that dwell above the Hill, in a clearer Sky, assured me they saw it some Nights since, more than four Degrees above Medusa's Eye. I have here sent you the Form of the Comet for some of the first Nights of its Appearance. The outward Part of the Effluxion was more dark, and towards the Midst more luminous. I could sometimes see a little round Star in the Center. At the first Appearance the whole Diameter seemed to be near fourteen Inches, and moved very fast; but the Motion of it became much slower, and the Comet shewed lesser and more bright; for the outward dusky Hair vanishing, the inner Part shewed more clear, but much less; for at last the Diameter seemed not to exceed seven Inches. This is all the Account I can give of it.

Albany, July 4. 1653. Your truly Loving Friend and Servant,
WILLIAM OUGHTRED.

Constantinople, January 23.

Reports vary again about the State of Things in Persia; it is now much doubted if the Ottoman Ambassador has had his Audiences of the Shaugh, whose real Designs seem still very uncertain: He is said to be somewhere about Tabreez. The Tunis Rovers incommode greatly the French Navigation in these Seas, and have taken some Vessels in the very Ports of the Morea and Archipelago. One of them, after having done a great deal of Mischief, shut up several French Vessels in the Port of Scio. It is said, that upon Application to the Porte, a Frigate is departing to order them to quit these Seas.

Petersbourg, Feb. 8. The Czarina has ordered every thing to be ready by the 20th of this Month for her Journey to Moscow. M. Lilliefeldt, who accompanied Prince Lewis as far as Mittau, return'd hither the 6th. The Prince was permitted to see his Brother and Sister-in-law at Riga, but they are not allow'd to see one another. The two Children of the late Princess Regent have had the Small-pox there; and are recovered. Mr. Finch, late Minister Plenipotentiary from his Britannick Majesty, having had his Audiences of Leave of the Czarina, set out from hence this Afternoon on his Return home.

Warsaw, Feb. 24th. There will be this Year a general Dyet, and, conformable to what was stipulated in the last, it will be held at Grodno in the Grand Duchy of Lithuania. Most of the Nobility and other Persons of Distinction have already sent to secure Lodgings there. There are many things of Importance to come before this Assembly, among which the Affair of Courland will be one, there being now no less than three Dukes of that Country, each of whom is said to have a Party, devoted to his Interest, viz. the Duke of Brunswick, lately chosen; M. de Biron, who was not long ago in Possession; and Count Maurice of Saxony, who was elected many Years since. It is also said, that the Partizans of the House of Austria are resolv'd to make a very extraordinary Proposition therein for the Service of the Queen of Hungary, grounded upon the ancient Leagues between her Family and the Republick.

Vienna, Feb. 28. N. S. There is no other News from Bavaria, except that Count Kevenhuller has made a Detachment of four Regiments of Foot and two of Horse, to reinforce Prince Charles and Prince Lobkowitz, in order to enable them to put a Stop to the King of Prussia's Progress in Moravia and Lower Austria. M. Polastron, with the 3000 French under his Command, is retired out of Moravia to join Marshal Broglie. This Court has now in its Service, of the Hungarian Insurrection, six Regiments of Infantry amounting to 18,000 Men, four of Cavalry 4000, Portallists 2000, Nobility 10,000, three old Regiments of Hungarian Infantry 9000, eight Regiments of Hussars 8000, Croats of Waradin 8000, ditto of Carlsbad 9000, Slavonians 3000, Pandours, Rascians, &c. 3000, in all 74,000.

Berlin, March 6. The Austrian Hussars have lately carried off two of the King of Prussia's Postillions, who were bringing Letters to this Place. The last Accounts we had of his Prussian Majesty were from Znaim, but he is soon expected at Olmutz, and 'tis said he will be here towards the End of this Month, but that is very uncertain.

Dresden, March 7. There is Advice that a Prussian Regiment has been cut to Pieces by the Hussars in Upper Silesia, where the Inhabitants of the Krapach Mountains, who live in those Frontiers by running of Salt, have, on obtaining an Amnesty from the Court of Vienna, formed a Corps of 5 or 6000 Men for the Service of the House of Austria.

Frankfort, March 7. His Imperial Majesty went abroad this Day for the first time since his Recovery from his late Sickness. The Elector of Cologne, who likewise had kept his Chamber some Days, went this Morning to pay his Respects to his Imperial Majesty, and Tomorrow he will perform the Ceremony of crowning the Empress: At this Instant Troops are marching into this City to prevent any Disturbance from happening at that Solemnity. The Ministers of the Dyet of Election continue their Conferences regularly. It is observed that Count Konigsfeld Vice Chancellor of the Empire, and Baron Munchausen Chief of the Embassy from the King of Great Britain as Elector of Hanover, are frequently together, and as these Lords appear to have a very strict Correspondence, we flatter ourselves they are contriving Ways and Means for resettling the Peace of Germany.

Hague, March 15. It is reported here, that the King of Prussia had retreated to Olmutz; and we have Advice that Marshal Broglie had abandon'd Pisseck and Frauenberg.
